Driving Quebec's Next Gold Camp

ABOUT CARTIER RESOURCES

Unlocking Camp-Scale Potential in Quebec

Headquartered to Val-d'Or (Québec, Canada), Cartier Resources is a Canadian exploration company advancing gold projects in Quebec's prolific Abitibi Greenstone Belt. The Company has consolidated a 116-square-kilometer land package covering 15 kilometers of continuous strike along the Cadillac Fault. Leveraging modern exploration and AI-driven targeting, Cartier is systematically unlocking the region's camp-scale potential.

NOTES

THE CADILLAC PROJECT

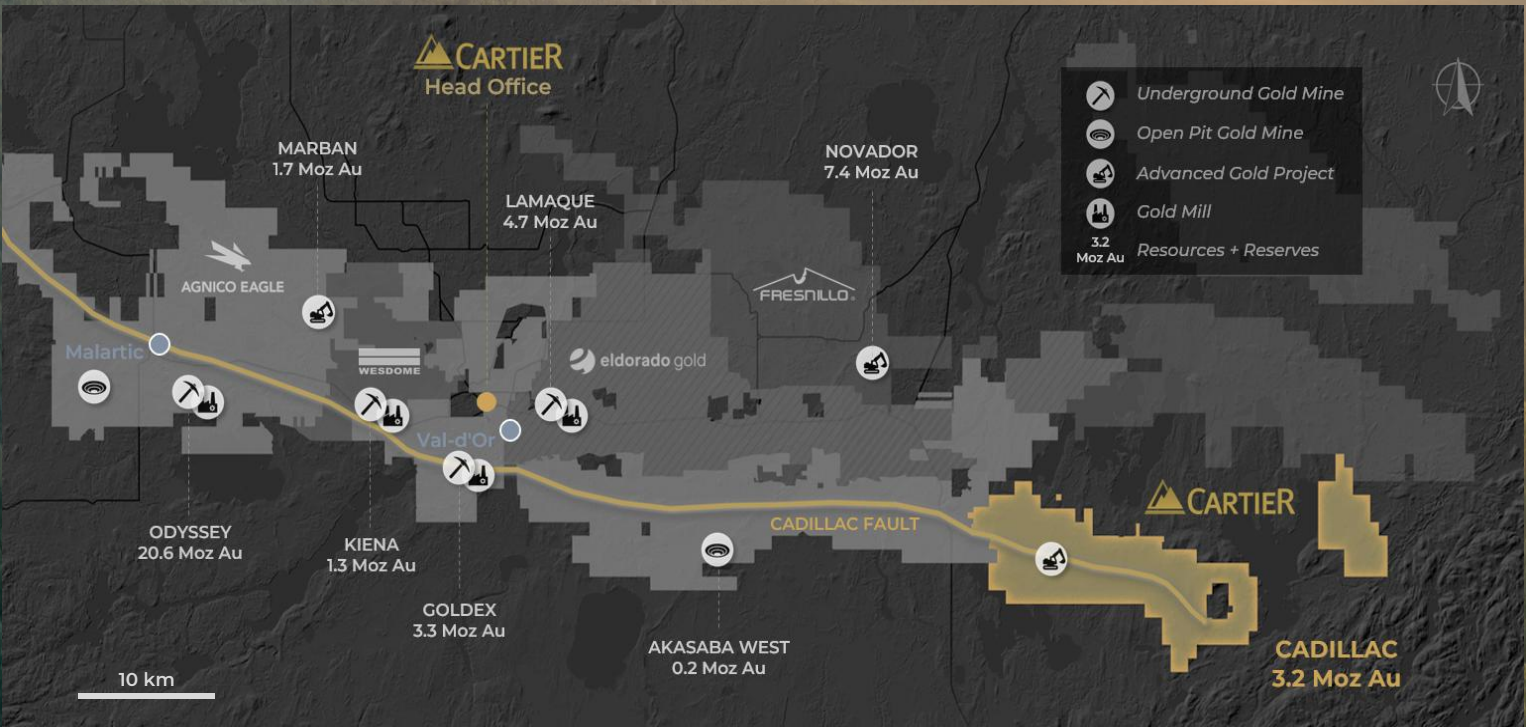

STRATEGIC FOOTPRINT: One of the largest consolidated land packages in the region, eliminating historical boundaries.

PRIME INFRASTRUCTURE: Located 30 km from Val-d'Or; surrounded by 6 regional mills allowing for low-capex routing.
